About

Dutch designbrand Suit'd[®] Suits (pronounce: 'sooted soots') offers various self-designed productmodels to style build-in power outlets, light knobs and related wiring parts to the interior indoors. For a well deserved Finishing Touch.

Use of Natural Materials

Equal to what people desire to add to their interior, Suit'd[®] Suits offer its products with real natural materials from premium suppliers. Bamboo, architectural wood-types, handpoured ceramics and crystal.

Available in different colors and designs, crafted with devotion by local craftsmen and the top of the industry.

Original Designs Inspire

From the early developments in 2010 and making its market entry in 2012, Suit'd[®] Suits became the first brand who made it possible by its models to allow interior styling to build-in power outlets and related parts. Nowadays the brand has a unique position by making the translation between ancient arts and crafts, design and modern consumer goods.

“This Cover Model is a catchy answer to ban plastic surfaces from power outlets and related parts from the interior. With only the functional element visible – the rest is hidden inside the cover, these products allow interior styling even to the smallest detail.”
